 9.15pm is the latest that the hotel are prepared to serve the evening meal, so it is imperative that we all play at a good speed or people might be missing their dinners. Rounds of golf taking longer than 4.5 hours are NOT ACCEPTABLE. If you've lost ground, you MUST speed-up and catch the group in front.

SLOW PLAY

On previous tours slow play has been a real problem, with rounds for the fourballs taking in excess of FIVE HOURS on some occasions.

As stated overleaf, 4.5 to 5 hours for a round of golf is not acceptable.

Four and a half hours is the absolute MAXIMUM amount of time we can afford for rounds to take or people will not be back in time for their evening meal.

Please do your best to keep-up the speed of play. It is the responsibility of the lowest handicapped player in each group to monitor the speed of their play and 'gee-up' any stragglers if necessary.

Don't forget that we're playing matchplay and you can concede putts!

If an opponent has puttied up to six inches, don't make them mark their ball and subsequently putt out, give them the putt and let's save some time. If you lose a hole on the match in front YOU MUST let the group behind through if they have been waiting for you on a regular basis.

Also, in the foursomes, don't forget that it's alternate shots so you can save a lot of time by walking down the hole a distance (or to the green on a par three) to ball spot whilst your partner is getting ready to play.

SHIRT COLOURS

The shirt colours to wear each day are as follows:

	Captain Kev Morris's Team	Challenger Gary Tyler's Team
Sunday (Fleetwood)	Black	Sky Blue
Monday (St Annes Old Links)	White	Black
Tuesday (Fairhaven)	Sky Blue	White

EVENING MEALS

As we do most years, we will get pre-orders for the evening meals on Sunday and Monday.

Please do not leave the hotel in the morning without choosing your evening meal.

The two team vice captains (Adrian Marchant and Alan Heard) will either be responsible for the meal selections themselves or will delegate this to some others on their respective team.
